TEMPLARS TO HELP GETS FIVE YEARS

May Go to Fight the Turks, According to Dispatch.

Interesting Crusade Planned in Chicago—Allied Parties to Have No State Ticket in Kentucky.

BIG KENTUCKY LAND DEAL

TO FIGHT THE TURK.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 16—A twentieth century crusade against their ancient enemy, the Turk, is being planned by Knights Templar, with the Balkans in place of Palestine as the field. Prominent members of the order are agitating the formation of a league that will send regiments of well drilled fighters to the aid of Bulgaria.

The plan has received consideration by Chicago members of the organization for some time, and tonight it is expected to be formally broached at the meeting of St. Bernard's commandery. With 500,000 members under oath to "be ready to go and fight the enemies of Christ even to the death," it is expected that an international interest will be stirred in the movement, and 200,000 knights from the United States and Europe may be massed in Macedonia to fight the soldiery of Turkey.

As yet the scheme is not perfected, but the general plan is to muster in regiments of Templars and send them to enlist under the Bulgarian government.

TO REDUCE MACHINISTS' WAGES

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 16—The National Metal Trades' association has started a movement to reduce the wages of machinists all over the country 10 per cent. If this reduction is accomplished, it will affect 100,000 machinists, both union and non-union. Wage agreements with the local union affiliated with the International association of machinists expires January 1, 1904, and preparations are being made by the manufacturers to insist upon a reduction when negotiations for new agreements begin.

NO CHANGE OF VENUE.

Cynthiana, Ky., Sept. 16—The court over-ruled the motion for a change of venue in the Jett case.

No jury has yet been secured. An extra panel of 50 men was exhausted at 10:10 a. m. today. Judge Osborne said he would draw 25 names from the jury wheel and have the men summoned by sheriff and deputies to report this afternoon.

WILL HAVE NO TICKET.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 16—The joint state convention of the allied people's party and the united labor party, now in session here, will not nominate a state ticket. This seems to be the general sentiment of the few delegates attending, and unless the delegates expected this afternoon favor putting out a ticket, none will be named.

BIG LAND DEAL.

Middlesboro, Ky., Sept. 16—The Middlesboro and Southern railway has acquired from the American association, incorporated, full possession and control of all the lands of the Middlesboro concern in Claiborne county, Tenn., and Bell county, Ky., including many mines in Mingo Hollow. A vast sum is involved.

ENVELOPED IN FIRE BOREING IS DEAD

Colored Woman Fatally Burned By Lamp Explosion

Joe Crane Badly Cut By a Saw at the Paducah Veneer and Lumber Company.

ENGINEER KITTINGER FELL

Lany Garnett, an aged colored woman, was probably fatally burned here this morning at her son-in-law's home back of the Hiram Blow stove factory by a lamp explosion.

She got up early this morning and was carrying a lighted lamp from the kitchen to another room when it slipped from her hands and began falling. She attempted to catch it but succeeded partially only. The fall caused the lamp to explode and the burning oil spread over the woman's dress completely enveloping her in flames.

Thomas Anderson, a brother to her son-in-law, Mose Anderson, heard her cries and seeing her danger threw a bucket of water on her clothes and extinguished the blaze. Dr. Davis, a colored physician, was summoned and found the burns very bad but possibly not fatal, this being impossible to determine for several days. The flames did not reach the face and she did not inhale any fire, but her legs, hips and breast were badly burned.

She lived in Mayfield but had come here to make her home with Anderson only a few days ago. This afternoon she was reported suffering great agony.

Joe Carne was badly cut this morning at the plant of the Paducah Veneer and Lumber company while working a band saw.

The saw had been taken out of the machine to be sharpened. Carne was holding it while another employe sharpened the teeth when the flexible band got loose from him. In trying to catch hold of it again his right arm was caught and cut, a main artery being severed. He bled profusely and was very faint and ill when Dr. Troutman was called to dress the wound.

Engineer Charles Kittinger, of the I. C., met with a painful but not serious accident last night while cleaning the headlight of his engine. He was standing on the running board reaching for the light to replace the globe which he had been cleaning when he lost his balance and fell. He alighted against a switch rod and was badly bruised in the buttocks and back and his right hand was badly cut by the lamp globe falling with him and breaking in his hand. He was taken to the I. C. hospital for treatment.

Andrew Murphy, a colored I. C. brakeman, of Fulton, had his right arm badly injured, by a pole, on a train passing the one he was on, striking him near Ripley, Tenn., yesterday. He was brought to the I. C. hospital here today.

THROWN OUT.

LOCAL RAILROAD AGENT DID NOT HAVE TO TESTIFY IN CASE.

Mr. W. H. Mustaine, day ticket agent for the I. C. here, returned this morning from Greenville, Ky., where he went to attend court for the L. and N. road in a suit for damages brought against that road by Jennie Weekly, colored. The woman claimed a conductor put her off the train in the rain and caused her much discomfort and embarrassment and by getting wet she was taken ill. She asked $2,000, but died during the pending of the trial and the case was thrown out of court.

MINERS' WAGE SCALE.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 16—After being in session several days the joint conference of coal miners and operators of East Tennessee and Southwestern Kentucky has referred the wage scale question to a subcommittee of five operators and five miners.

Bowling Green, Ky., Sept. 16—Jesse Higginbotham was today acquitted of the murder of William Hines.

Congressman of the Eleventh District a Victim.

Had Been Lawyer, Editor and Congressman and Was a Prominent Man.

HE WAS BORN IN TENNESSEE

London, Ky., Sept. 16—Congressman Vincent Boreing died today at 10 a. m. after an illness of several days. He was taken ill about ten days ago with a severe case of pneumonia and after apparently becoming better suffered a relapse a few days ago.

Congressman Boreing was born November 24, 1839 in Washington county, Tenn., and moved to Laurel county, Kentucky, with his father in 1847. He was educated in the Laurel Seminary at London, and at Tusculum college, Greenville, Tenn. He served in the Union army in Co. A, 24th Kentucky infantry, and was soon thereafter commissioned a lieutenant by the governor of the state. He was wounded in the battle of Resaca, Ga., May 14, 1863. The same year he was elected county school superintendent in Laurel, and was re-elected in 1870. He founded the Mountain Echo at London in 1857, the first newspaper published in Southwestern Kentucky and now the oldest Republican newspaper in the state.

In 1886 he was elected county judge and was in 1888 elected president of the First National bank of London, a position he held for many years.

He was a prominent Methodist and several times represented the Kentucky conference in the general conference, and had also been department commander for Kentucky of the G. A. R.

He was elected to the 56th and 57th congress and was a man well liked by all who knew him. He leaves a family.

K. AND L. OF HONOR

FOURTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION BEGINS ITS SESSION IN LOUISVILLE.

Louisville, Sept. 16—The Knights and Ladies of Honor are holding their fourteenth annual convention here with an attendance of 100 delegates from all parts of the country. There will be no radical changes in the general laws of the order, although a few minor amendments will be made in the constitution. The organization has been in existence twenty-six years, and has a membership of 75,000. The supreme protector is L. B. Lockard of Toledo.

New officers will be elected near the close of the convention, which will probably remain in session four days.

Resolutions were introduced providing for the erection of a temple at Indianapolis at an expense of $60,000, and to have lodge dues paid monthly instead of quarterly. The cost of supplies to subordinate lodges were reduced in one case about 60 per cent.

MANY CRIMINALS

HAVE BEEN CAUGHT THROUGH THE GOOD WORK OF DETECTIVE DINEEN IN A YEAR.

Mr. W. T. Dineen, special agent for the Louisville division of the I. C., is in the city today on business.

Today one year ago Mr. Dineen was transferred from the Chicago division to the Louisville division as special agent to succeed Mr. W. J. Laffey, promoted, and since his transfer has made the company perhaps the best special agent it has ever had on this division. He has more criminals awaiting trial for felonies here between Louisville and Fulton at present than have ever been under arrest at one time before and few law breakers connected with the I. C. have gotten the better of the hustling special agent. He is well known here to the police and has often aided them in securing criminals wanted for various offenses.

This is the closing day of the K. I. T. league, and tomorrow the Paducah club will come home to play Cairo a series of eight post-season games, and baseball will be over for the year in Paducah.

It was stated today by the management of the Paducah club that every player now in the Paducah team has been tied up for next season. This means that they were notified that they must report early next spring to be "tried out," and if the local association wants them all it can sign them again, or sign as many of them as it desires. There are many good players in the team, and will be glad to know that at least some of them will be retained for next season.

Cairo is trying to swap back Lloyd for Witt but the local management only laughs at the guileless Egyptians and says it will hold on to Witt who is a good man.

Cairo wins the pennant, after a hard tussle with Clarksville, and doubtless deserves it, as the club has perhaps played the best and steadiest ball in the league throughout the season. Paducah will probably end up fifth, or possibly fourth. There is talk of the standing as published being incorrect, but no one seems to know what it should be and no one has the official record except the secretary, who is at Cairo.

MR. J. HENRY SMITH ONLY WANTS TO SATISFY HIMSELF COUNT WAS CORRECT.

Mr. J. Henry Smith, who was a candidate for city treasurer and who was defeated by Mr. M. W. Johnson by only 5 votes, stated this morning that he had not decided when he would file his contest papers and had left the matter entirely with his attorney, Col. Jon G. Miller.

He stated that he thought when a vote was so close the ballots should be counted simply to ascertain if the count was correct. That he thought a mistake possible and wanted to be satisfied that the count was correct.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT

For a Great Fair at Paducah This Year.

In the Hands of Capable and Reliable Fair Managers.

The people of Paducah and surrounding country are looking forward to the Paducah fair to be held October 6 to 10, with considerable interest. It is known that the managers of the enterprise are backed by ample capital and that they have made a success of the fair business wherever they have tried it.

The assurance is given that everything connected with the fair will be clean and unobjectionable. No gambling devices will be tolerated and no intoxicants will be sold on the grounds.

In addition to the usual fair program of races, ring shows, etc., a great array of free attractions will be provided to fill in between the races, in order to entertain the people who attend and dispense with the tedious waits often the case at fairs and race meetings. Among the number of social attractions already engaged are Barnes' Famous diving elks, trick horse, Trixby and Bonnie Band of bag pipes and dancers, Van Franklin's wonderful educated horse, Forest Tempest, in his great cake walk exhibition and his troupe of trick mules, educated monkeys and dogs; Paul Maize, the wonderful Indian, who does prodigious feats of strength, besides many other minor attractions, all of which will be given in front of the grand stand daily free to all.

The management has the confidence of the horsemen and the races will probably be the best ever seen here, and taken altogether we see no reason why the Paducah fair should not be a great success under their management. The admission will be only 25 cents.

The gentlemen who have the management of the fair have for years been the managers of the fair at Madisonville which has achieved such a great degree of success and popularity, besides Judge Givens has had the management of various fairs, such as Guthrie, Henderson, Princeton and always made a success of them. He was elected county judge two years ago, and temporarily withdrew from all fairs except Madisonville, but the temptation could not be resisted, and in connection with Messrs. Rash and Franceway, he is managing five fairs this year, as follows: Guthrie and Madisonville, which have already been held and which were completely successful; Evansville, Sebree and Paducah which are yet to come. The management have ample capital and are not afraid to engage an expense which would ordinarily stagger a fair board, but these gentlemen have ascertained that the better the entertainment the bigger the crowds and the better the profits, and no expense will be spared to suitably entertain the people of Paducah and surrounding country.

They have an option on the fair grounds for five years, and they expect to run a fair every year during that time.

MARRIED AT METROPOLIS.

YOUNG PEOPLE OF EARLINGTON WED THERE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Mr. E. L. Goodloe and Miss Mattie Kelley, well known young people of Earlinton, Hopkins county, passed through the city yesterday en route to Metropolis, where they were married by Justice Thomas Liggett at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the State hotel.

Mrs. Cordelia Russell, of Paducah, accompanied them, and they returned last night on the Fowler and left today for home.

OLD FORT MASSAC

Will Keep the Memory of Historic Spot Green.

Governor Yates Has Named the Commission That Is to Purchase the Site.

$10,000 TO BE APPROPRIATED

The plans for purchasing Old Fort Massac, twelve miles below Paducah near Metropolis, Ill., for the purpose of converting it into a national park, have been about completed, and Governor Yates has appointed the commission which is to make the purchase.

All the members of the commission are from the Daughters of the American Revolution, which body was largely instrumental in securing the passage of the bill appropriating $10,000 for the purchase and beautification of the site and are as follows: Mrs. Mathew Scott of Bloomington, vice president general; Mrs. Charles H. Deere of Moline, regent for Illinois, and Mrs. Benjamin Fessenden of Highland park, regent of the Chicago chapter.

It is expected that the transfer of the site by Hon. Reed Green of Cairo, to the commission will be accomplished immediately and that the work of clearing and making a park of the grounds will go ahead without further delay. There is not a more beautiful spot along the Ohio river and when the park improvements are complete will be a point of interest to many travelers and sightseers to this section of the country.

DESPERATE POLITICS.

Louisville Evening Post.

Wednesday is not often selected by Kentucky judges for the execution of man under sentence of death.

Judge Robbins has fixed Wednesday, November 25, seventy-six days hence, for the execution of Caleb Powers.

Wednesday, the day before Thanksgiving, Caleb Powers, four years ago elected by the people of Kentucky Secretary of State, is to be hanged.

He has been tried three times before solid Democratic juries.

Tried and convicted on the testimony of Henry Yontsey, who is trying desperately to placate his implacable pursuers.

Convicted to show how the forms of law may make even in Kentucky a mockery of justice.

And now comes Gov. Beckham with the proposal that the life or death of Powers be made the issue of the pending campaign.

Desperate indeed must be his political fortunes. What does Kentucky think about it?

MALARIA

An Invisible Enemy to Health.

Malaria is a disease we can neither see nor shun, because it is so subtle and stealthy in its approaches. We breathe into our lungs air that is infected with the poisonous gases and vapors arising from low marshy places, stagnant pools, damp cellars, sewer pipes and unsanitary buildings. The water we drink may be polluted with disease-bearing germs and microbes, and through the bite of a mosquito the dread enemy, Malaria, enters our systems to poison the blood and destroy the health. Often the first intimation we have of its presence is a creepy, chilly sensation running over the body, followed by slight fevers. The aching bones, drowsiness and worn-out, depressed feelings show this stealthy foe is quietly at work in the system. These premonitory symptoms of Malaria should not be disregarded or ascribed to over-work, summer's heat or other causes, for they are unmistakable signs of malarial poisoning, and should be treated as such, or the mistake may prove costly, entailing years of suffering, if not a wrecked constitution. As the blood becomes more deeply poisoned, other and more serious troubles arise; the circulation grows sluggish, the Liver and Kidneys fail to act properly, resulting in enlargement of the Spleen, jaundice, poor appetite and digestion, yellow or dark splotches upon the skin, boils, carbuncles, abscesses and violent ulcers and sores. Malaria frequently reduces one to such a low state of health that the simplest diseases are liable to prove fatal.

POISONED BY THE GERMS OF MALARIA.

I began using your S. S. S. several years ago for Malaria and blood troubles, and it proved so good at that time that I have continued ever since using it as a family remedy. Recently one of my children was troubled with large, painful boils on the back of his neck, after suffering with these for several months, we tried S. S. S., and am glad to state that a bottle and a half cured him entirely.

It is a pleasure for me to recommend S. S. S. for the benefit of others who are needing a first-rate blood purifier, tonic and sure cure for Malaria.

only medicine that can accomplish this is S. S. S., which not only purges the blood of all morbid, unhealthy matter, but keeps it pure and healthy. It searches out and destroys every trace of Malarial poison, and keeps the blood in such a vigorous condition that impurities and poisons of every kind are promptly expelled from the system.

During the Fall is an opportune time to begin the fight against this invisible enemy, for the hot, sultry summer days have caused the germs to multiply and still further impoverish the blood and weaken the constitution, and now more than ever the Malaria sufferer needs a good blood purifier and bracing tonic.

A course of S. S. S. at this particular season will relieve you of Malaria and its attendant evils, reinforce and build up the system, purify and strengthen the circulation. The appetite and digestion improve and all the vital powers rapidly recuperate under the tonic influence of this great vegetable remedy. Its freedom from all minerals makes it the ideal remedy in all Malarial troubles and perfectly adapted to the most delicate constitutions.

HARD LUCK STORY

KENTUCKIAN WALKS FROM HOPTOWN TO BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 16—Although old and infirm, minus one of his hands and having wounds caused by gunshot in several parts of his body, Henry Burton Hill walked from Hopkinsville, Christian county, Ky., to this city, a distance of about 600 miles. He is at the city hospital, where he is ill as the result of his long jaunt. Mr. Hill's left hand was torn off by shot. Part of his left shoulder was also shot off, and he has a wound in the chest caused in the same manner.

According to his story, the wounds were inflicted in an attempt to kill him.

Mr. Hill said it took him ten weeks and two days to complete his long journey. He said he had nothing in the world, having given a small farm, his only possession, to his son. During all his travels he obtained work but once, and that three days ago in

WANT A SHARE OF THE LATE POPE'S ESTATE.

Rome, Sept. 16—When Cardinal Giuseppe Pecci, the brother of the late Pope Leo died, Leo had all the cardinals heirs renounce their claims to the inheritance, assuring them they would be adequately compensated. Not having received anything, the cardinals' nephews have now presented a request to the executor of Pope Leo's will that they enter into the possession of the cardinal's estate, or receive compensation. It seems that among the objects found in the late Pope's apartments were four large baskets full of silver belonging to Giuseppe, and which has never been opened since the latter's death. It is supposed they were forgotten by Pope Leo.

From Despondency to Health.

NORTH ALTON, ILL. June 9, 1903.
A few months ago my health seemed to break down altogether. I had a complete collapse and nature refused to sustain me any longer. I lost my appetite, could not sleep and was in the very slough of despondency, which was greatly aggravated at the menstrual period. Our physician was unable to give me anything which was of the least benefit to me and I kept getting worse and was very nervous and hysterical.
A friend who had used Wine of Cardui suggested that I try it. So I sent for some and within two days after I started to use it I felt a great deal better. I could sleep at night and gradually the nervousness passed away. I became strong and had no pain at the period.
I am now enjoying the best of health due to the merits of Wine of Cardui for which I am deeply grateful.

WINE of CARDUI

There are hundreds of women in this city today who need Wine of Cardui and they would not hesitate a moment to take it if they only knew what a record it has made. Day after day and year after year letters like this one, praising Wine of Cardui, have appeared in the papers of this land and hundreds of thousands of sick women have secured relief from painful and irregular menstruation, leucorrhoea and bearing down pains by following the advice given.

Can any fair minded woman refuse to take the testimony of ten thousand of her sisters who have suffered just as she and then have been completely cured? Who can fairly say "Wine of Cardui will not help me" with such facts before her? Wine of Cardui is a pure vegetable extract that is so mild and simple in nature that a girl can take it with benefit when threatened with early menstrual disorders. Older women are cured of the more serious menstrual troubles, bearing down pains and leucorrhoea. For the troubles at childbirth and for middle-aged women at the change of life—Wine of Cardui meets every crisis in the life of a woman.

Try the treatment by getting a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today.

THE TORTOISE AND THE EAGLE.

Find the Man Who is Watching.

A Tortoise, weary of crawling around on the ground at a snail's pace, desired to fly in the air like the birds, and gave out that if any bird would take him up in the clouds and show him the world he would tell him in return where to find treasures hid in the earth. The Eagle thereupon did as he wished, but finding that the Tortoise could not keep his word carried him up once more and let him fall on a hard rock, where he was dashed to pieces.

Houses Will be Secured for Confederate Veterans.

The Local Camp to Guard Against Inclement Weather—Armory is Offered Them.

MEETS AGAIN ON THURSDAY

James Walbert Camp, Confederate Veterans, met last night at the city hall but did not take any action relative to inviting Mrs. Jefferson Davis and her daughter to the reunion here last month, as the ladies of the Daughters of the Confederacy who are deemed the proper ones, have already attended to that.

Last night it was ordered that each member of the camp make inquiry in his neighborhood and secure the names of all who can house the old soldiers during their stay in Paducah in case the weather should be such that they cannot sleep at the fair grounds, where the reunion is to be held. It is desired to do this as a safeguard in case of bad weather.

The enrollment committee for the camp, Messrs. H. P. Hawkins, J. V. Greif and W. H. Patterson, will probably make their headquarters at Secretary Dain's office in the Palmer house, which has been tendered them for use during the two days.

The members of the Wheeler Guards have offered the veterans the use of their armory on Jefferson street and will also do everything possible to make the stay of the visitors pleasant while the street car company will carry all of them on its cars free.

The association adjourned to meet again Thursday, when other business will be taken up.

21 YEARS A DYSPETIC.

R. H. Foster, 318 South 2d St., Salt Lake City, writes: "I have been bothered with dyspepsia or indigestion for 21 years; tried many doctors without relief; recently I got a bottle of Herbine. One bottle cured me, I am now tapering off on the second. I have recommended it to my friends; it is curing them, too." 50c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

VOTE FOR MAYOR A TIE.

Lexington, Tenn., Sept. 16—The election commissioners for Henderson county met here for the purpose of canvassing the vote cast for mayor and aldermen in the corporation election held here last Thursday. The vote for mayor was declared a tie by the judges and there will be a run-off between E. W. Sessary, republican and L. T. Fielder, democrat.

Among the Bodies Brought Back.

Four of the Dead Heroes Are From Old Kentucky and Will Be Buried Here.

CASKETS CANNOT BE OPENED.

New York, Sept. 16—The United States transport Kilpatrick, which arrived from Manila with the bodies of 302 American soldiers killed in either battle or by disease in the Philippine islands, began unloading its burden of dead at the United States army pier yesterday.

The bodies of the following Kentucky soldiers were shipped to their respective homes:

Lester J. Lewis, private, Company B, Twenty-seventh infantry, Oakland, Ky.

John Schmid, private, hospital corps, Junction City, Ky.

Frank D. Stroud, private, hospital corps, Paducah, Ky.

Claude A. Ringo, private, Company M, First infantry, Rothwell, Ky.

The Fifth United States infantry and the men on leave of absence, who also came back on the transport, had all left, but a guard of honor from the Eighth United States infantry was at the pier early this morning. The coffins were all hoisted, one by one, from the vessel's hold, and the boxes were laid out in a long line on the pier.

On the end of each box was a card giving the name, rank, company and regiment of the soldier whose body it contained. Two placards were also pasted on each box, one read:

This box contains the remains of a United States soldier. Express charges for transportation of which from New York to destination will be paid by the United States Quartermaster of New York City.

The second read:

For sanitary reasons this case must not be opened.

MR. THOMAS UZZLE DEAD.

FOREMAN OF RIGLESBERGER'S MILL A VICTIM OF FEVER.

Mr. Thomas Uzzle, for the past eighteen months foreman at the Riglesberger planing mill, died at 11 o'clock last night at his former home in Metropolis after a week's illness. Mr. Uzzle had a chill last Thursday and went to Metropolis, being taken with fever and gradually growing worse until the end came.

For a time he resided on South Sixth street, but resided at the time of his death on South Third. He was about thirty years old and leaves a wife. The funeral will take place at Metropolis.

Col. John S. Hobson, of Central City, head man of the Central Coal and Iron company, is in the city on business.

GEORGIA MINSTRELS.

No minstrel show ever made a tour of the country and received as many favorable comments, both from the press and public, as was given last season to Richards and Pringle's Famous Georgia minstrels. You could hear it on the streets, in hotels, on the train, in fact everywhere, the good things that were being said of the performance; the band also came in for its share of praise.

The management promises this season as good, if not a better show than ever; they have retained the leading members from last year, and added a lot of new ones that are said to be exceptionally clever artists. They will appear at The Kentucky on Monday night.

HARRIS NICKEL PLATE SHOWS

The W. H. Harris Nickel Plate show arrived in this city this morning from York, where it appeared to big audiences on Thursday, and is showing at McGranns park this afternoon and evening. A street parade was given at 10:30 o'clock, it was a very suitable turnout for a popular-priced circus. A chariot drawn by six Siberian camels, an elephant and bagpipe players were features of the parade. Over 50 horses appeared in the demonstration. The circus is one of the old fashion kind, the performances being given in one ring, and is pronounced everywhere the best of the smaller shows on the road. The attractions are all first class and the performance is pleasing and clean throughout. The tent has a seating capacity of 3,000, and everything about the show has the appearance of a big circus.—Lancaster, Pa., Daily Examiner, May 31.

INELIGIBLE CANDIDATES.

General Buckner, who is a good lawyer, said of the Democratic ticket in his speech Saturday:

"The head of this ticket will have served a full term in his office, and, under the constitution, is ineligible for re-election. His only claim to the second term to which he aspires lies in a falsification of the legislative records, declaring that as a fact which is known to the world to be untrue. Other members of this ticket being under the constitution, ineligible to

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

CHAPTER 50.

An act to provide for an amendment to Section 181 of the Constitution of Kentucky.

"The General Assembly may, by general laws only, authorize CITIES OR TOWNS OF ANY CLASS to provide for taxation for municipal purposes, on personal property, tangible and intangible, based on income, taxes or franchises, in lieu of an menians' tax thereon; vided, cities of the first class shall be authorized to levy a tax of an ad valorem tax on property of any steam railroad, trolley, ferry, bridge, gas, water, telephone, telegraph or electric power company.

LAX

succeed themselves, have sought to perpetuate their control by rotating themselves into new positions. So at the gentlemen who withdrew from the contest might justly have added to their charge of corruption, that it was also a rotary machine, a sort of political whirling, presenting to the eye in the revolutions of the ring, the same unchanging features, every figure grimly seated with boot and spur on the Democratic back, and holding on, like the old man of the mountain, with such tenacity that they cannot be shaken off."

This hits the nail on the head. The question for the people to decide is, will they support such a crowd? The remarks relative to the eligibility of the Democratic nominee for governor may also apply to the Democratic nominee for mayor of Paducah, who will have served "the term for which he was elected," when his successor steps in, and will consequently not be eligible under the law for the succeeding term.

Are the people of Paducah, who are already familiar with the countless shortcomings of the Yeiser administrations willing to put the high tax crowd that has wasted two or three hundred thousand dollars without a single public improvement, back again, particularly when they know it will mean a contest over the office, and plunge the city into the confusion, delay, uncertainty and consequent demoralization of such a contest? The Republicans will have out good men for office, men who are eligible from mayor down, and whose election will afford no grounds for a contest. It is believed the intelligent people of Paducah will prefer the latter.

It might be well for the city to investigate the length of time required for making the excavations for paving the streets. It is claimed by inspectors who worked on Broadway when it was paved that it is about two weeks from the time ground is broken until the curbing can be placed, and if this be the case, the work of excavating the first block to be paved might be started now and be ready for the curbing, which ought to be here within two weeks, at the longest. It is claimed the curbing is now delaying the work, but it is expected to arrive any day.

Modern litigation affords us something new every day. In Paducah recently a court granted an injunction against one citizen's chickens, prohibiting their visiting the horticultural specimens being tenderly reared by a neighbor. Now a Knoxville, Tenn., judge takes the center of the stage and grants an injunction against a dog belonging to a liveryman, enjoining the animal from barking or otherwise disturbing the family of another citizen, who alleged the dog drove his wife into nervous prostration.

Coal operators of Kentucky and Tennessee, principally from the southeastern part of the state, have formed a combination to cope with the labor situation, and at a meeting held recently at Knoxville organized an association representing $15,000,000 capital. They believe that with the cooperation of the miners all differences will be adjusted amicably, and strikes will become obsolete.

With the prominent former Democrats and ex-confederate soldiers now found in the ranks of the Republican party in Kentucky, a victory in November seems assured. Among these are former Gov. Buckner, former Lieut. Gov. Hindman, Congressman Wm. Beckner and W. C. Owen, former Congressman W. J. Stone and others.

The extra session of congress announced some time ago for October will not be held until November. This will enable congressmen and senators to remain at home instead of having to go to Washington before the election. The special financial legislation talked of has not yet been decided on.

Hon. Ollie James' resting up this week but will be on hand next week, we are told in the Democratic organs, to help Governor Beckham. It will take a bigger man than Congressman James, however, to pull the governor out of the political mire he is in.

The Principals to Hold a Meeting Next Friday Afternoon.

The schools have now settled down to hard work and the enrollment of white pupils numbers 1900, about more than at the close of last year. The colored enrollment will not be known until later today, as no reports have been received yet from the colored teachers.

The superintendent has called a meeting for Friday afternoon of all the principals of the different schools to outline definitely their work and to receive final instructions.

A committee has been appointed from the principals of the schools to outline a course of study in literature for the teachers literary society this year. The report will be made within a few days.

A man who has a speaking acquaintance with John D. Rockefeller met him the other day as he left the Standard Oil building to enter his carriage. As he stepped into the carriage Mr. Rockefeller replied, "Between 10 and 3." And these are market hours every day.

The Progress of Cremation.
Cremation within the past few years has made much progress in Europe, and still greater progress in the United States. San Francisco at the present time leads the world in the number of its citizens who are yearly cremated. Despite, however, that more persons are, year by year, subjected to this process, there still exists much prejudice against cremation among the population at large.

Valuable Secrets.
Recently $25,000 was obtained at public auction in London for the recipe of a celebrated pill. This is a striking instance of the value of a secret. The famous Worcester sauce is made according to a recipe hundreds of years old, which was bought for a large sum of money from an old family.

Republican Candidate For Governor Calls Attention to the Broken Promise of His Opponent and Replies to Beckham's Statement Relative to Pardons and Partisan Politics.

Replying to the remarkable statement of Governor Beckham on the subject of pardons, in which he declares before the evidence is submitted to him that he will not pardon Jett, White nor Caleb Powers, Colonel Belknap dictated the following interview:

"Mr. Beckham, in opening his campaign, has seen fit to go into the question of pardons. He has made a declaration and a promise and demands that I shall do the like. He specifically promises that he will not pardon Jett and White, and by implication promises that he will not pardon Powers, Howard and Youtsey. I shall not under any circumstances enter into competition with Mr. Beckham in the making of promises.

"He has made such promises before, and has broken them. When he was a candidate three years ago, under exactly similar circumstances, in the most solemn way he promised the state that he would never pardon any man convicted of murder by a fair jury.

WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN MADE.

"He made that promise on the stump and broke it in the office. I hope in some instances, at least, he was justified in breaking it. He ought never to have made it. The law and the charity of human nature intended the prerogative of clemency to be conscientiously exercised in cases where justice otherwise would fail. But Mr. Beckham has broken his promise so often in fact as well as in spirit that there is nothing left of it, and now he makes a new one in its place.

WILL MAKE NO PROMISE.

"For myself, I will make no promise as to how I will decide any case until I have read the record and heard the facts. No decent candidate for a judgeship will promise before he is elected how he will decide a particular case. The granting or refusal of a pardon is, at least in part, a judicial act.

"But I will promise this, and the promise shall be kept. If I am elected governor of Kentucky, and any application for pardon is made to me, I will give it the fullest consideration. No matter what the condition, race, color, religion or politics of the applicant, if I believe it to be a proper case for pardon, and my conscience approves, I will issue the pardon.

NO PARDONS FOR POLITICAL REASONS.

"I will not pardon Powers or any one else for a political reason. Proud as I should be to be elected governor of Kentucky, I would rather lose the office than to feel that I had staked the life or liberty of even the meanest of my fellow-citizens on a game of political ambition.

"That is all I have to say on the subject," said Colonel Belknap when he had concluded. "I don't see how I could say more or less."

THE "OPENING."

Big Difference Between 1900 and 1903.

The Democratic campaign opened at Henderson in September, 1900, and at Winchester, 1903. In 1900 there was a simultaneous speech making all over the state, making a really great demonstration for that party. This year the opening was quite tame and listless, many spell-binders being too busy to help start the ball. Of the four Democratic candidates who started against Beckham in his primary, not one was present at Winchester, and did not speak at any point in the state.

The Hon. Robert J. Breckinridge spoke at Lawrenceburg in 1900. For some reason he was not called on to help start the ball this year.

The Hon. John K. Hendrick mounted the raging stump at Benton at the opening three years ago. Perhaps remembrances of his Nicholasville speech last spring haunted the campaign committee, hence his failure to butt the rainbow at Benton this year.

Judge James D. Black spoke at Barrowsville in 1900. His speech was "conciliatory in tone," perhaps more so than his card of withdrawal from the gubernatorial fight. Judge Black looked in on the Republican convention this year at the auditorium.

Colonel Henry Watterson was in New York on opening day. But if not present in the flesh he may have been there in spirit.

Lieutenant Governor Speaker pro tem Newton Utley spoke with the "openers" three years ago. He was too busy this year. It is quite evident that Democratic harmony is all in the imaginative brain of the reporters for the machine press.

CENTLE LASH OF OSTRACISM.

That the names of two Democratic traitors like Basil Duke and Stephen Sharp should be used to call for a rebellion of Morgan's men seems the very irony of absurdity. Surely, if he could know it, the fact would make General Morgan turn over in his grave.—Washington Democrat.

A DAY OF OFFICIALS

Mr. W. J. Harahan Spends a Few Hours in Paducah.

He Does Not Confirm Rumor of Superintendent Philbrick's Transfer—Superintendent Renshaw Here.

MR. M. GILLEAS EXPECTED

Mr. W. J. Harahan, assistant general superintendent of the I. C., of Chicago, arrived in the city last night from the south in his private car No. 8 on business and left this morning for Louisville on the Fulton and Louisville accommodation train.

Mr. Harahan is on a general inspection tour and stated that everything seemed to be in perfect order. In regard to the report relative to transferring Superintendent Philbrick to the Tennessee division, Mr. Harahan stated that he had not been informed of any such change but did not state it would not be made. The Tennessee division has been a source of great annoyance to the I. C. higher officials. More work and a better hard are required on this division than any other southern division, and Mr. Philbrick is considered an excellent superintendent.

Yesterday was one of the biggest days at the railroad hospital here for many years. Fourteen patients were admitted to the hospital and the doctors were kept busy for some time attending them. There were five patients admitted to the accident wards, three from the Ripley wreck and two from the Louisville division of the road, the remaining nine being admitted from different places for illness, fever, etc.

Mr. William Renshaw, superintendent of machinery of the I. C., and assistants are expected here today on an inspection. The shops were cleaned yesterday and are in good condition. The yards about the buildings were cleaned up and all debris moved.

Mr. M. Gilles, third vice president and assistant general manager of the Y. and M. V. road, and Mr. I. G. Rawn, general superintendent of transportation of the I. C., are expected in the city soon. They are also on a general inspection trip.

Superintendent A. Philbrick and Roadmaster J. M. Russell, of the Louisville division of the I. C., were in the city last night on business and left this morning for Louisville with Assistant General Manager W. J. Harahan.

NO FROST

THERE HAS BEEN A VERY GRATIFYING CHANGE IN TEMPERATURE, HOWEVER.

The cold wave from which several sections of the country are suffering struck this section last evening, but there will be no frost. Last night the minimum was 65, and today the maximum will be about 70 degrees. The predictions are for rain in the eastern portion of Kentucky tonight and cooler weather here, and for fair and colder weather tomorrow. The difference in temperature is most perceptible in day time, the minimum last night being only about six degrees cooler than on the preceding night. The temperature will have to go to 35 or 38 before there can be frost.

A WOMAN'S COMPLEXION.

It is rank foolishness to attempt to remove sallowness or greasiness of the skin by the use of cosmetics, or "local" treatment as advocated by the "beauty doctors." The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active. The liver is the seat of disease and blood pollution. Green's August Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood, purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, and induces refreshing sleep. A single bottle of August Flower has been known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. New trial size bottle, 25 cents; regular size, 75 cents. At all druggists. DuBois, Ky. & Co.

Caught Underneath an Engine But Escapes With Broken Collar Bone.

Silas Simms, colored, who is employed by the I. C. here as an engine hostler in the round house, came near meeting a horrible death last night under the wheels of engine No. 667, one of the largest type freight monsters.

Simms had been put to work packing driving boxes under the engine and was working under the machine. Another engine came down the grade and bumped into the engine under which he was working and caught him unawares. His collar bone was badly fractured and he was bruised and injured otherwise. He was taken to the I. C. hospital where the injuries were dressed.

PASTURES DRYING UP.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT SHOWS DROUGHT TO BE STILL IN EVIDENCE.

The weekly crop report shows the drought to be still prevalent over the state. Gardens are drying up and the prospects for fruit are bad. The report follows:

Very hot weather prevailed during the week, with local showers. In the extreme northern counties the rainfall was sufficient to break the drought, but over the greater part of the state the drought is becoming severe.

Tobacco cutting progressed well and about half the crop is housed. The early tobacco is generally good, but the late fields have been injured by the drought. Considerable has been cut green, on account of "firing" from the drought.

The early corn is nearly matured and cutting will be in progress during the ensuing week. Early corn is generally good, but the late planting has suffered severely from drought, except in the extreme northern counties, where it is good.

Plowing for wheat has progressed slowly on account of the land being too dry to break.

Pastures are drying up and in many places water for stock is becoming scarce.

Gardens are about dried up and apples are dropping very badly and will be a short crop.

ART OF REST.

MAY BE ACQUIRED AND USED WITH GREAT BENEFIT.

Complete and restful poise of the body and mind is an art not easily gained.

Perhaps nothing brings one as much content, comfort, happiness and pleasure as those conditions, of easy, restful, resourceful and well balanced mind and body, that make of work a pleasure and the daily life happy and peaceful.

The nervous housewife busy with a hundred duties and harassed by children; the business man, worried with the press of daily affairs, debts, etc., cannot enjoy the peace and restful repose and healthful nervous balance unless they know how.

There is a way. First and foremost the stomach must be consulted. That means leaving off coffee absolutely, for the temporary stimulant and the resulting depression is a sure ruin to the nervous system, and the whole condition of health and happiness rests upon stomach, nerves and mind.

Start with the stomach, that is the keystone to the whole arch. Stop using things that break down its power, upset its nervous energy and prevent the proper digestion of the food and the consequent manufacture of healthful blood and nerves, brain and tissues.

When you quit coffee take on Postum Food Coffee. That is like stopping the payment of interest and starting on a career where you are loaning money and receiving interest.

The good results are double. You stop poisoning the system with coffee and start building up the broken down nerve cells by powerful elements contained in Postum. These are pure food elements ably selected by experts for the purpose of supplying just the thing required by nature to perform this rebuilding.

These are solid substantial facts and can be proven clearly to the satisfaction of anyone, by personal experience. Try the change yourself and note how the old condition of shattered nerves and worried mind changes to that feeling of restful poise of a well balanced nervous system.

The managing physician of a hygienic sanitarium in Indiana says that for five years in his practice he has always insisted upon the patients leaving off coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee with the most positive, well defined results and with satisfaction to the most confirmed coffee taker.

The doctor's name will be furnished by the Postum Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

The entrance to the carnival grounds will be one of the finest ever seen here and will be designed and constructed by Mr. Robert McKee, the artist, who built the arch for the last Elks carnival.

many synonyms for money. The Buffalo Commercial asserts that money has more synonyms than any word in the English language if slang phrases be included. It presents this partial list: Coin, plunks, plasters, soap, rocks, dust, dough, ducats, dingbats, pewter, needful, stuff, collat, rags, shekels, wad, roll, tin, long green, grease, bones, balsam, chicken feed, rhino, brass, gold, lucre and simoleons.

Not an Unmixed Success. Some Arizona gentlemen have been trying to thaw out dynamite in the oven of a kitchen stove and the experiment was completely successful. As the experimenters were distributed over four different counties, however, their heirs and surviving relatives are somewhat dubious as to the advisability of the investigation from a utilitarian point of view.

How a Young Wife Regained Her Health and Beauty.

W. E. Birch, Afton, Va., an extensive fruit grower of that place, writes the following letter to the Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio. We print the letter in full:

Afton, Va., June 4, 1900.
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:
Gentlemen—"The country is flooded with patent medicines of every kind that are worthless and a humbug, that I for one, am glad to be able to say I have found one that is everything and more than is claimed for it.
"My wife was very much run down and out of sorts in every way. She had a pelvic disorder which left her very weak, nervous and no appetite at all.
"One day I happened to be at my father's store, S. A. Birch, Coresville, Alb county, Va., and noticed your medicine he had there for sale.
"I thought it might help my wife, so I brought a bottle of it home and within a week she commenced to eat and now she is hungry all the time and not half the medicine has been taken. We both agree that it beats any medicine to bring on an appetite and to put the nerves in good shape that we have ever had anything to do with. We had our family doctor to give her medicine and he did all he could, but she did not improve the least. She has consumption in her family and she was in such bad shape; so run down, nervous, weak, and could not eat, that I had begun to get very uneasy, but your medicine made an entirely new woman of her. I believe she eats and feels better now than she has for years.

"I have not the slightest doubt but that your medicine has saved her from a long spell of sickness, if nothing more. All my family had begun to get uneasy, but, of course, she did not know it and I have only just told her of it since she has improved so much. I had no idea it would do half what it has and don't think there is another medicine made that will begin to compare with it."—W. E. Birch, Fruit Grower, Afton, Alb county, Va.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

L. C. LUKE COULD NOT SLEEP

Rochelle Ave. and Bellevue St., Cincinnati, O., Aug. 15, 1903.

MR. LUKE SAYS: "Some years ago I met with an accident which left my nerves in an awful condition. Could not sleep, could not rest. I tried five doctors, but could get no relief. Was getting worse all the time, when a friend of mine recommended Paine's Celery Compound as being the best remedy I could take for nervousness and sleeplessness. I got a bottle and began to feel better from the very start. My nerves are strengthened so that I am now able to sleep as I used to before the accident. I have recommended it to several of my friends and it has always done them good. I keep a bottle in my house at all times."

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND CURED HIM.

Mr. J. Frank Martin, the painter, left today for Mound City, Ill., to bid on the painting of the big Corwin H. Spencer, which is to be remodeled and made into an excursion steamer for the World's Fair trade next year.

This boat was formerly the City of Monroe, sunk several years ago in a storm, and later Hill City, a big Anchor Line steamer. Sometime ago she was rebuilt and made about a third longer, now boasting of perhaps 325 feet, and being one of the largest steamboats in the country. Her name was changed to the Spencer. She will now be repainted and converted into a steamer suitable for the World's Fair trade next year, and it is expected that the work to be done on her will cost $25,000 or $30,000.

AN ACQUITTAL AT HENDERSON

CLAY COLSON KILLS A MAN.

Middlesboro, Ky., Sept. 16—Clay Colson, nephew of Colonel D. G. Colson, shot and instantly killed Frank Zuliger at the brewery here. The trouble arose over Colson's younger brother, who, it is said, was whipped by Zuliger Sunday. Colson is a son of the late John C. Colson, who was killed in this city several years ago by John Dugan, a saloonkeeper.

WOULDN'T USE A BRUSH.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 16—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who is visiting relatives here, threatens to use her hatchet on the window of a local saloon which bears the inscription, "All Nations Welcome Except Carrie and Her Hatchet." As she drove by the saloon she said: "I don't like that sign and if it remains up I know a quicker way to remove it than tusing a paint brush."

SHOT AT TRAIN MEN.

Cynthiana, Ky., Sept. 16—As a north bound freight was passing the pumping station, Elijah Cummins, a farm hand, fired three shots at Conductor Everett Thompson and two at a brakeman, missing both. Cummins then waded the river and started toward Cynthiana. Conductor Thompson notified Sheriff Rees, who, with Deputies Charles Lail and R. L. Jamieson, captured Cummins. Cummins said to Judge Lail that he was from Woodford county, and was wanted there for manslaughter.

A PECULIAR DEATH.

Danville, Ky., Sept. 16—James Kincaid, of this city, died in a peculiar manner. While seated in a chair reading the daily paper he passed away and the family were not aware of his death until an hour afterward, as he was holding the paper in his hand and apparently dozing when found. His death is supposed to have been due to apoplexy.

BEAT INSURANCE COMPANY.

Cadiz, Ky., Sept. 16—In the case of N. B. Pollard's administrator against the Equitable Life Insurance company, in the Trigg circuit court, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. Pollard, who was sheriff of Trigg county, died in his office on the second day of December, 1901, almost instantly, from a pistol shot, which the insurance company claimed was fired with suicidal intent. The policy was for $2,000. There is also a similar suit pending against the Masonic Home life for $2,000 and the Woodmen of the World for $1,000.

PROVED SELF DEFENSE.

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 16—W. E. Gatlin, charged with the murder of Cabell Beverly, in this city, the latter part of March of the present year, was acquitted by a jury. Previous threats and self-defense was the plea put up by his attorneys. Gatlin is a tobaccoist, and is well known, having come here from Paris, Tenn.

HUSTLING MAYFIELD ELKS.

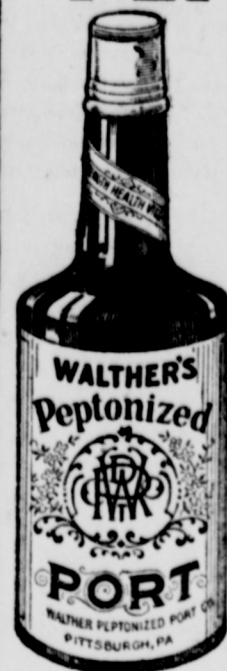

Mayfield, Ky., Sept. 16—The Elks have purchased from S. R. Brooks the St. Charles hotel property for $8,750, and will convert it into lodge and banquet rooms, at cost of about $10,000. Mr. Brooks recently purchased the hotel and placed about $4,000 in repairs upon it, making a total cost of about $11,000 to him.

TO SELL DICKENS HOME.

London, Sept. 16—An effort is being made to purchase the house at No. 387 Commercial Row, Portsmouth, where Charles Dickens was born. The house is to be sold at auction next month, and there is a strong feeling in the town that the building should be bought by private treaty for the purposes of a museum. It has been suggested that the Dickens fellowship provide the necessary money out of its funds; also that the municipality should find the money.

Columbia River and Mt. Hood is the title of a chapter in the Northern Pacific's "WONDERLAND 1903."

Few of our people have any idea of what a noble stream the Oregon of Bryant's Thanatopsis, is, or know of the beauties of Mt. Hood and of the pleasures of a sojourn on its flanks, covered with the firs and spruces of the North Pacific slope.

There is no such stream in the United States as the Columbia. The Hudson, Ohio, Mississippi, Missouri, are not in the same category with this grandest of rivers. With its swirling currents, rapids, cataracts, lava bluffs, fairy water falls, cascades, tremendous canyon walls, gigantic cliffs, salmon fisheries, palisades, pinnacles, and tidal bays, its great width and its sea like depth, it eclipses any water course in North American territory.

Mt. Hood, always white with snow, overlooks the river gorge and adds to its attractiveness.

Send CHAS. S. FEE, General Passenger Agt, St. Paul, Minn., six cents for "WONDERLAND 1903" and acquaint yourself with the history and physical and other characteristics of this grandly scenic country.

ALICE of OLD VINCENTNES

By MAURICE THOMPSON

Copyright, 1900, by the BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

Beverley could not stare at the girl, and no sooner had he turned his back upon her than the picture in his mind changed like a scene in a kaleidoscope. He now saw a tall, finely developed figure and a face delicately oval, with a low, wide forehead, arched brows, a straight, slightly tip tilted nose, a mouth sweet and full, dimpled cheeks and a strong chin set above a faultless throat. His imagination in casting off its first impression was inclined to exaggerate Alice's beauty and to dwell upon its picturesqueness. He smiled as he walked back to the fort and even found himself whistling gayly a snatch from a rollicking fiddle tune that he had heard when a boy.

CHAPTER VI.

A FEW days after Helm's arrival M. Roussillon returned to Vincennes, and if he was sorely touched in his amour propre by seeing his suddenly acquired military rank and title drop away he did not let it be known to his fellow citizens. He promptly called upon the new commander and made acquaintance with Lieutenant Fitzhugh Beverley, who just then was superintending the work of cleaning up an old cannon in the fort and mending some breaks in the stockade.

Helm formed a great liking for the big Frenchman, whose breezy freedom of manner and expansive good humor struck him favorably from the beginning. M. Roussillon's ability to speak English with considerable ease helped the friendship along, no doubt; at all events their first interview ended with a hearty show of good fellowship, and as time passed they became almost inseparable companions during M. Roussillon's periods of rest from his trading excursions among the Indians. They played cards and brewed hot drinks over which they told marvelous stories, the latest one invariably surpassing all its predecessors.

Helm had an eye to business, and turned M. Roussillon's knowledge of the Indians to valuable account, so that he soon had very pleasant relations with most of the tribes within reach of his agents. This gave a feeling of great security to the people of Vincennes. They pursued their narrow agricultural activities with excellent results and redoubled those social gayeties which, even in hut and cabin under all the adverse conditions of extreme frontier life, were dear to the volatile and genial French temperament.

Lieutenant Beverley found much to interest him in the quaint town, but the piece de resistance was Uncle Jazon, who proved to be both fascinating and unmanageable—a hard nut to crack, yet possessing a kernel absolutely original in flavor. Beverley visited him one evening in his hut—it might better be called a den—a curiously built thing, with walls of vertical poles set in a quadrangular trench dug in the ground, and roofed with grass. Inside and out it was plastered with clay, and the floor of dried mud was as smooth and hard as concrete paving. In one end there was a wide fireplace grimy with soot, in the other a mere peephole for a window; a wooden bench, a bed of skins and two or three stools were barely visible in the gloom. In the doorway Uncle Jazon sat whitening a slender billet of hickory into a ramrod for his long flintlock American rifle.

"Maybe ye know Simon Kenton," said the old man, after he and Beverley had conversed for awhile, "seeing that you are from Kentucky—eh?"

"Yes, I do know him well; he's a warm personal friend of mine," said Beverley with quick interest, for it surprised him that Uncle Jazon should know anything about Kenton. "Do you know him, M. Jazon?"

Uncle Jazon winked conceitedly and sighted along his rudimentary ramrod to see if it was straight, then, puckering his lips as if on the point of whistling, made an affirmative noise quite impossible to spell.

"Well, I'm glad you are acquainted with Kenton," said Beverley. "Where did you see him and he come together?"

Uncle Jazon chuckled reminiscently and scratched the skinless, cicatrized spot where his scalp had once flourished.

"Oh, several places," he answered. "Ye see that hair a-bagin' there on the wall?" He pointed at a dry wisp dangling under a peg in a log barely visible by the bad light. "Well, that's my scalp. He, he, he!" He snickered as if the fact were a most enjoyable joke. "Simon Kenton can tell ye about that little affair. The Indians thought I was dead, and they took my hair; but I wasn't dead. I was just a-givin' 'em a possum act. When they was gone I got up from where I was a-layin' and trotted off. My head was sore, and, ventrebien, but I was mad! He, he, he!"

All this time he spoke in French, and the English but poorly paraphrased his odd turns of expression. His grimaces and grunts cannot even be hinted.

It was a long story, as Beverley received it, told scappily, but with certain rude art. In the end Uncle Jazon said with unctuous self-satisfaction: "Accidents will happen. I got my chance at that Indian who skinned my head, and I jes' took a bead on 'im with my old rifle. I can't shoot much, never could, but I happened to hit 'im square in the left eye, what I shot at, and it was a hundred yards. Down he tumbles, and I runs to 'im and finds my same old scalp a-bagin' to his belt. Well, I lifted off his hair with my knife and untied mine from the belt, and then I had both scalps—he, he, he! Ye ask Simon Kenton when ye see 'im. He was along at the same time, and they made 'im run the gauntlet and pretty high beat the life out of 'im. Ventrebien!"

Twilight and moonlight were blending softly when Beverley, on his way back to the fort, departing from a direct course, went along the river's side southward to have a few moments of reflective strolling within reach of the water's pleasant murmur and the town's indefinite evening stir. Rich sweetness, the gift of early autumn, was on the air blowing softly out of a lilac west and singing in the willow fringe that hung here and there over the bank.

On the farther side of the river's wide-flow, swollen by recent heavy rains, Beverley saw a pirogue, in one end of which a dark figure swayed to the strokes of a paddle. The slender and shallow little craft was bobbing on the choppy waves and taking a zigzag course among floating logs and masses of lighter driftwood while making slow but certain headway toward the hither bank.

Beverley took a bit of punk and a flint and steel from his pocket, relit his pipe and stood watching the skillful boatman conduct his somewhat dangerous voyage diagonally against the rolling current. It was a shifting, hide and seek scene, its features appearing and disappearing with the action of the waves and the doubtful light reflected from fading clouds and sky. Now and again the man stood up in his skittish pirogue, balancing himself with care, to use a short pole in shoving driftwood out of his way, and more than once he looked to Beverley as if he had plunged headlong into the dark water.

Beverley stood at ease, idly and half dreamily looking on, when suddenly something caused a catastrophe, which for a moment he did not comprehend. In fact, the man in the pirogue came to grief, as a man in a pirogue is very apt to do, and fairly somersaulted overboard into the water. Nothing serious would have threatened, for the man could swim like an otter, had not a floating, half submerged log thrust up some short, stiff stumps of boughs, upon the points of which the man struck heavily and was not only hurt, but had his clothes impaled securely by one of the ugly spears, so that he hung in a helpless position, while the water's motion alternately lifted and submerged him, his arms beating about wildly.

"I've saved them both," he roared.

When Beverley heard the strangled cry for help he pulled himself promptly together, flung off his coat, as if by a single motion, and leaped down the bank into the water. He was a swimmer whose strokes counted for all that prodigious strength and excellent training could afford. He rushed through the water with long sweeps, making a semicircle, rounding against the current, so as to swing down upon the drowning man.

Less than a half hour later a rumor by some means spread through the town that Father Beret and Lieutenant Beverley were drowned in the Wash-bash. But when a crowd gathered to verify the terrible news it turned out to be untrue. Gaspard Roussillon had once more distinguished himself by an exhibition of heroic nerve and muscle. "Ventrebien! Quel homme!" exclaimed Uncle Jazon, when told that M. Roussillon had come up the bank of the Wash-bash with Lieutenant Beverley under one arm and Father Beret under the other, both men apparently dead.

French Lick and West Baden Springs

In the highlands of Indiana—a two hour ride from Louisville there flow wonderful healing waters, that you'd spend hundreds of dollars to enjoy if they were in Europe.

A recent visitor from Philadelphia, who formerly went to Carlsbad every year, said: "I do not see why anyone goes to Europe for medicinal waters. The water is as beneficial, and the scenery and surrounding country, the air and the opportunities for recreation are better; the hotels and all accommodations are much finer at French Lick-West Baden Springs"—and this gentleman is a native of Switzerland.

The splendidly wooded hills with the cool, invigorating air of these highlands where one can enjoy rambles in the depths of the forest, or rides and drives among the numerous bridle paths and roadways, afford pleasure for those who desire rest and quiet; while at the splendid and casinos one can have all the entertainment and pleasures possible at the most fashionable resorts.

Agony From Inherited Heart Disease.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Me.

One person in every four has a weak heart. Unless promptly treated a weak heart will easily become a diseased heart. A little extra strain from any cause is sufficient to bring on this deadly malady, the most common cause of sudden death. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure will tone up the heart's action, enrich the blood and improve the circulation.

"My trouble began with catarrh and I have always supposed it caused the trouble I have experienced with my heart. I had the usual symptoms of sleeplessness, lost appetite, constipation, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath and pain around the heart and under left arm. My mother suffered in the same way and I suppose mine was an inherited tendency. At one time I was in agony. I suffered so severely and became so weak that my doctors said I could not live thirty days. At this time I had not slept over two hours a night on account of nervousness. The least exercise, such as walking about, would bring on palpitation and fluttering of the heart so severe that I would have to give up everything and rest. Nerve and Liver Pills cured me of constipation and heart symptoms disappeared under the influence of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. I am in better health than I have been in twelve years and I thank Dr. Miles' Remedies for it. I think they are the grandest remedies on earth and I am constantly recommending them to my friends."—MRS. L. J. CANTRELL, Waxahatchie, Tex.

Theatrical Notes.

The Great Herrmann, the prince of magicians, had considerable fun with a street car conductor in St. Louis, Mo., recently. The conductor came through collecting fares, and Herrmann had in his hand to give him a ten dollar gold piece. The conductor glanced at the coin and said: "I can't change that, is that the smallest you have?" "You can't change that?" said Herrmann, and in his hand was a fifty cent piece. The conductor glanced suspiciously at him, reached out, taking the coin, when to his surprise it was again a ten dollar gold piece. "Did I not tell you," he said savagely, handing the coin back to Herrmann, "I could not change it. You will have to give something smaller or get off the car. The company does not make change for anything over $2.00." "Well, you have to change this then," said Herrmann, and there in his hand was a fifty cent piece. "Say, what is this, anyway?" said the conductor. "Have I got them?" "Don't know," said Herrmann, "whether you have or not, but if you don't change this coin and stop annoying me I shall report you to the company." "Well, I'll be damned," said the conductor, as he rang up several fares by mistake, and the crowd recognizing Herrmann, roared with laughter. At the Kentucky Saturday matinee and night.

Walker Whitesides, who has opened his season in "We Are King," relates the following incident that he once witnessed in a street car when he was playing in Columbus, Ohio:

"The car in which I was riding was very much crowded," said Mr. Whitesides, "and I with several others was standing. A lady entered the car and a very seedy looking individual, who had evidently been looking too much on the beer while it foamed, rose to give her a seat. Before she could reach it a robust looking man slipped into it.

"S-a-a-y, you—you feller there," said the boozy but chivalrous one, as he swayed to and fro, "I—I'm drunk, an' I know it, but I—I'll get over it; but you—you're a hog, an' you, you'll never get over it, no sirree."

Gertrude Coghlan has a new play that was written for her by her father, the late Charles Coghlan, and she intends to bring it to New York in the near future.

There is Land Still Left in the Northwest

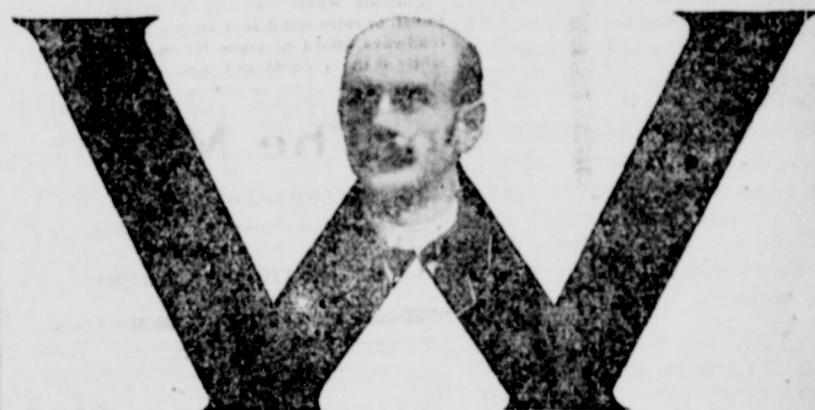

And the Northern Pacific has a new and very Low Rate for Colonists and Homeseekers in effect from September 15 to November 30, 1903.

This gives farmers a good chance to go homeseeking, after crops are harvested, or any others who wish to move into the growing, teeming, improving Northwest, to visit it at trifling expense.

The finest valleys in the Northwest, good for grain, hay, fruits, root crops, for mixed, stock or dairy farming, for irrigation or not, as one wishes, are found along the Northern Pacific or its branch or connecting lines. The growing, thriving towns, are found there, too. It is a great country.

Call on any N. P. R. agent for rates and detailed information or write to Chas. S. Fee, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn.
